4. Comments.

The following specific comments on subject paper are submitted for consideration:

a. Page 2. para. 2 (a) Tin.

CIA questions the statement that "Since only negligible quantities are known to have been imported by the USSR in 1948...." The Netherlands shipped to the USSR 600 tons of tin during the last quarter of 1948 and 400 tons during the first quarter of 1949. Furthermore, during the latter part of 1948, the USSR received from the Netherlands 1000 tons of white metal with a minimum tin content of 83 percent. It is probable that additional shipments of tin or tin-bearing metal were made during 1948 and 1949 but no further definite information is available.

b. Page 3. Third Sentence.

It is doubted if the substitution of laminated wood material would result in the saving of much tin, as is implied in the statement "Tin substitutes such as laminated wood material..."

c. Page 4. para.(c) "Other Raw Materials."

It is suggested that the USSR can also obtain considerable quantities of antimony from Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Yugoslavia also produces antimony.

d. Pages 4, and 5 "Hard Fibers."

Supplementing the statements in subject study, CIA's information shows that the USSR imported about 5,150 metric tons of hard fibers in 1947 and 31,000 metric tons in 1948. Jute, imported from India, is also a substitute.

e. Page 5, para 4(a). "Steel"

CIA questions the emphasis in the statement "It has been importing both of these commodities..." The USSR is importing very little pig iron or raw steel. Most iron and steel imports are in the form of finished goods.

f. Page 5, para 4(b). "Capital Equipment."

It is suggested that the phrase "not large" be deleted and that the word "undetermined" be substituted therefor, and that the same sentence be strengthened by deleting the word "could" in the phrase "certain vital imports could prevent...."

g. Page 6, second para, first sentence.

Following the words "electrical equipment", it is suggested that "oil field equipment" be added. In the same paragraph, third sentence, it is suggested that the phrase "although quantitatively small" be deleted following the phrase "(and other equipment)."

h. Page 6, third para., second sentence.

It is suggested that the word "would" be deleted to strengthen the statement to read "The loss of imports from the Western world retards..."
